In 2023, Huli District was awarded the title of “Hometown of Construction” in Fujian Province. The Fujian Provincial Department of Housing and Urban-Rural Development issued the Notice on Ten Measures to Promote High-Quality Development of the Construction Industry, clarifying that districts titled “Hometown of Construction” are granted the same approval authority as districted cities in terms of qualification approval, personnel training and assessment, and project approval. Also, priorities are given to “Hometown of Construction” districts in terms of pilot reforms in the construction industry. The department also issued the Huli District “Hometown of Construction” High-Quality Development Work Mechanism, which established a three-level coordination service system across the Huli District People's Government, the Xiamen Municipal Bureau of Housing and Urban-Rural Development, and Fujian Provincial Department of Housing and Urban-Rural Development. The document specifies that department leaders and relevant officials will give priority to Huli District and help enterprises with qualification transfer based on the principle of “one matter, one discussion” .
